Defendants.

Georgia Babb, John J. Frangiamore Jr., William Happ, Aaron Holbrook, Michelle Pecanic-Lee, David Schmus, and Abram van der Fluit are current or former public-school teachers who bring this class action on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated, seeking redress for the defendants' past and ongoing violations of their constitutionally protected rights. The defendants have violated the representative plaintiffs' constitutional rights by forcing them to pay compulsory "fair share service fees" to the California Teachers Association and its chapters and affiliates as a condition of their employment, even though the representative plaintiffs do not belong to this union and do not wish to subsidize the union's activities. The representative plaintiffs seek a refund of all unlawfully collected "fair share service fees," an injunction that forbids the defendants to collect union fees from nonmembers without their consent, and costs and attorneys' fees under 42 U.S.C. § 1988.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. The Court has subject-matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, 28 U.S.C. § 1343, and 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

2. Venue is proper because a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims occurred in this judicial district. See 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2).

PARTIES

3. Plaintiff Georgia Babb resides in Sandoval County, New Mexico.

4. Plaintiff John J. Frangiamore Jr. resides in Orange County, California.

5. Plaintiff William Happ resides in Butte County, California.

6. Plaintiff Aaron Holbrook resides in Riverside County, California.

7. Plaintiff Michelle Pecanic-Lee resides in Los Angeles County, California.

1 8. Plaintiff David Schmus resides in Orange County, California.

2 9. Plaintiff Abram van der Fluit resides in Los Angeles County, Califor-3 nia.

4 10. Defendant California Teachers Association (CTA) is a labor union
5 whose offices are located at 1705 Murchison Drive, Burlingame, California 6 94010. It has more than 1,300 chapters and affiliates throughout the State.

7 11. Defendant United Teachers of Los Angeles is a local union chapter 8 affiliated with the California Teachers Association. Its offices are located at 9 303 Wilshire Boulevard, 10th Floor, Los Angeles, California 90010. It is sued 10 as representative of the class of all chapters and affiliates of the CTA.

11 12. Defendant National Education Association (NEA) is a labor union 12 whose headquarters are located at 1201 16th Street NW, Washington, D.C.
13 The NEA is affiliated with the CTA.

14 13. Defendants Eric Banks, Priscilla Winslow, Erich Shiners, and Arthur 15 A. Krantz are members of the California Public Employment Relations 16 Board, the entity that oversees public-sector collective bargaining in Califor-17 nia and administers the State's labor and collective-bargaining laws, includ-18 ing Cal. Gov't Code § 3546, which the defendants are challenging as uncon-19 stitutional. They are all sued in their official capacities.

20 STATEMENT OF THE CLAIM

21 14. Ms. Babb is a public-school teacher who was employed by the Nuview 22 School District in California from 2000 through 2006. She is currently em-23 ployed by the Rio Rancho Public Schools in New Mexico. While she was 24 teaching at Nuview, Ms. Babb refused to join the CTA or its affiliates be-25 cause she disapproved of their political advocacy and collective-bargaining 26 activities and did not wish to support them in any way. Nevertheless, Ms.

1 Babb was forced to pay “fair share service fees” to the CTA as a condition of 2 her continued employment. See Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546(a).

3 15. Mr. Frangimore is a public-school teacher who currently works in a 4 non-union school district, but previously worked for the Compton Unified 5 School District (1990–96) and the Bellflower Unified School District (1996– 6 2016), both of which were agency shops. Mr. Frangimore refused to join the 7 CTA or its affiliates during that time because he disapproved of their politi-8 cal advocacy and collective-bargaining activities and did not wish to support 9 them in any way. Nevertheless, Mr. Frangimore was forced to pay “fair 10 share service fees” to the CTA as a condition of his continued employment.
11 See Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546(a).

12 16. Mr. Happ is a retired public-school teacher who taught in the Cali-13 fornia public schools for 27 years. Mr. Happ refused to join the CTA or its 14 affiliates because he disapproved of their political advocacy and collective-15 bargaining activities and did not wish to support them in any way. Neverthe-16 less, Mr. Happ was forced to pay “fair share service fees” to the CTA as a 17 condition of his continued employment. See Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546(a).

18 17. Mr. Holbrook is a public-school teacher who taught in the San Jacinto 19 Unified School District until June of 2017. He now teaches in a non-union 20 charter school. Mr. Holbrook refused to join the CTA or its affiliates because 21 he disapproved of their political advocacy and collective-bargaining activities 22 and did not wish to support them in any way. Nevertheless, Mr. Holbrook 23 was forced to pay “fair share service fees” to the CTA as a condition of his 24 continued employment. See Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546(a).

25 18. Ms. Pecanic-Lee is a public-school teacher for the Hacienda La 26 Puente Unified School District. Ms. Pecanic-Lee refuses to join the CTA or 1 its affiliates because she disapproves of their political advocacy and collec-2 tive-bargaining activities and does not wish to support them in any way.

3 Nevertheless, Ms. Pecanic-Lee was forced to pay “fair share service fees” to 4 the CTA as a condition of her continued employment. See Cal. Gov’t Code 5 § 3546(a).

6 19. Mr. Schmus is a former public-school teacher who taught in the Hac-7 ienda La Puente Unified School District from 2000 through 2015. Mr.
8 Schmus refused to join the CTA or its affiliates because he disapproved of 9 their political advocacy and collective-bargaining activities and did not wish 10 to support them in any way. Nevertheless, Mr. Schmus was forced to pay 11 “fair share service fees” to the CTA as a condition of his continued em-12 ployment. See Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546(a).

13 20. Mr. van der Fluit is a public-school teacher in the Los Angeles School 14 District. Mr. van der Fluit refuses to join the CTA or its affiliates because he 15 disapproves of their political advocacy and collective-bargaining activities 16 and does not wish to support them in any way. Nevertheless, Mr. van der 17 Fluit was forced to pay “fair share service fees” to the CTA as a condition of 18 his continued employment. See Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546(a).

19 21. The compelled subsidies that the representative plaintiffs and their 20 fellow class members were forced to pay to the California Teachers Associa-21 tion and its affiliates as a condition of their employment violates their consti-22 tutional rights. See Janus v. Am. Fed’n of State, Cty., & Mun. Employees, 23 Council 31, 138 S. Ct. 2448 (2018).

24 22. The law of California authorizes the CTA and its affiliates to extract 25 money from non-union members as a condition of their employment. See, 26 e.g., Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546 (authorizing CTA to collect “fair share service

1 fees” from nonmembers as a condition of employment) (attached to the 2 complaint as Exhibit 1); Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546.3 (authorizing CTA to 3 compel “religious objectors” to remit money to a union-approved charity in 4 lieu of a “fair share service fee”) (attached to the complaint as Exhibit 2).
5 Each of these statutes is unconstitutional, along with any other statute that 6 authorizes or establishes agency shops in public employment, or that allows a 7 public-employee union to garnish the wages of public employees without 8 first securing the employee’s affirmative, written, and freely given consent.

9 23. The California Teachers Association and its affiliates are acting under 10 color of state law by imposing and collecting these “fair share service fees,” 11 in accordance with the laws of the State that authorize these agency-shop ar-12 rangements. See Cal. Gov’t Code § 3546.

13 24. The CTA and its affiliates have committed the torts of conversion 14 and trespass to chattels by appropriating money from nonunion agency-fee 15 payers without securing their affirmative, written, and freely given consent, 16 and they are liable in an action for tort, replevin, unjust enrichment, and res-17 titution. The CTA cannot defend its tortious conduct by relying on Cal.
18 Gov’t Code § 3546, because that statute is unconstitutional to the extent it 19 purports to shield a public-employee union’s compelled extraction of money 20 from agency-fee payers. Unconstitutional statutes cannot confer immunity 21 on tortious conduct.

22 CLASS ALLEGATIONS

23 25. The representative plaintiffs bring this class action under Fed. R. Civ.
24 P. 23(b)(1), (b)(2), and (b)(3). The class includes all individuals who: (1) are 25 or were employed by the State of California or by any public school or school 26 district located in the State of California; (2) are or were nonmembers of 1 CTA who were compelled by CTA and its affiliates to pay “agency fees” or 2 “fair share service fees” —regardless of whether those fees were remitted to 3 the union, its affiliates, or a third-party organization. The class includes eve-4 ryone who has ever fallen within this definition, including former and retired 5 teachers or teachers who have moved to other States, and it includes anyone 6 who comes within the class definition at any time before the conclusion of 7 this action.

8 26. The number of persons in the class makes joinder of the individual 9 class members impractical.

10 27. There are questions of fact and law common to all class members.
11 Factually, all class members are public employees and union nonmembers 12 compelled to pay “fair share service fees” to the CTA and its affiliates as a 13 condition of employment. Legally, the U.S. Constitution and California tort 14 law afford the same rights to every member of the class.

15 28. The representative plaintiffs’ claims are typical of other members of 16 the class, because each member of the class has objected to CTA member-17 ship yet has been forced by state law and contract provisions to financially 18 support the CTA and its inherently political activities.

19 29. The representative plaintiffs adequately represent the interests of the 20 class, and they have no interests antagonistic to the class.

21 30. A class action can be maintained under Rule 23(b)(1)(A) because sep-22 arate actions by class members could risk inconsistent adjudications on the 23 underlying legal issues.

24 31. A class action can be maintained under Rule 23(b)(1)(B) because an 25 adjudication determining the constitutionality of compulsory “fair share ser-26

1 vice fees” will, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of all class 2 members.

3 32. A class action can be maintained under Rule 23(b)(3) because the 4 common questions of law and fact identified in the complaint predominate 5 over any questions affecting only individual class members. A class action is 6 superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of 7 the controversy because, among other things, all class members are subjected 8 to the same violation of their constitutional rights, but the amount of money 9 involved in each individual’s claim would make it burdensome for class 10 members to maintain separate actions.

11 CAUSES OF ACTION

12 33. The representative plaintiffs and their fellow class members are suing 13 the CTA and its affiliates, and the members of the Public Employment Rela-14 tions Board under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 15 U.S.C. § 2201, each of which supplies a cause of action for the individual and 16 class-wide relief that they are requesting.

17 34. The representative plaintiffs and their fellow class members are also 18 suing the CTA and its affiliates under the state-law actions of conversion, 19 trespass to chattels, replevin, unjust enrichment, restitution, and any other 20 legal or equitable cause of action that offers relief for this unlawful seizure of 21 her personal property. The representative plaintiffs invoke the supplemental 22 jurisdiction of this court over those state-law claims. See 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

23 DEMAND FOR RELIEF

24 35. The representative plaintiffs respectfully request that the court:

- 25 a. certify a plaintiff class of all nonunion members who have been
- 26 forced to pay agency fees or “fair share service fees” to the Cal-

1 California Teachers Association or its affiliates or a union-approved 2 third-party organization as a condition of their employment;

3 b. certify a defendant class of all chapters and affiliates of the Cali-4 fornia Teachers Association;

5 c. declare that the representative plaintiffs and their fellow class 6 members have a constitutional right to decline to join or finan-7 cially support a public-employee union, and that they cannot be 8 forced to pay money to a union or a union-approved third-party 9 entity as a condition of their employment;

10 d. declare that state tort law protects the right of the representa-11 tive plaintiffs and their fellow class members not to have their 12 wages garnished or redirected by the CTA or its affiliates with-13 out their affirmative, written, and freely given consent, and that 14 any federal or state law or collective-bargaining agreement that 15 purports to override these protections of state tort law by allow-16 ing the CTA to help itself to the wages and paychecks of school 17 employees—or that compels school employees to consent the 18 garnishment of their wages by the CTA or its affiliates as a con-19 dition of their employment—is unconstitutional and without le-20 gal effect;

21 e. declare Cal. Gov't Code § 3546 unconstitutional because it al-22 lows public-employee unions to extract “fair-share service 23 fees” from nonmembers as a condition of their employment, 24 and permanently enjoin the members of the Public Employment 25 Relations Board, and all of their officers, agents, servants, em-26 ployees, attorneys, and any other person or entity in active con-

1 cert or participation with them, from enforcing Cal. Gov't Code 2 § 3546, or any other provision of state law that authorizes or en-3 forces public-employee agency shops;

4 f. declare that all collective-bargaining agreements that compel 5 the representative plaintiffs and their fellow class members to 6 pay "agency fees" or "fair share service fees" to the CTA or its 7 affiliates as a condition of their employment violate the consti-8 tutional rights of the representative plaintiffs and their fellow 9 class members;

10 g. order the CTA and its affiliates, including the NEA, to refund 11 all agency fees or "fair share service fees" that were unconstitu-12 tionally or unlawfully extracted from the representative plain-13 tiffs and their fellow class members;

14 h. permanently enjoin the CTA and its affiliates, along with their 15 officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and any other 16 person or entity in active concert or participation with them, 17 from taking or redirecting any type of money from the repre-
18 sentative plaintiffs, their fellow class members, or any other 19 public employee without first obtaining the employee's affirma-20 tive, written, and freely given consent;

21 i. permanently enjoin all of the defendants, along with their offic-22 ers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and any other per-23 son or entity in active concert or participation with them, from 24 enforcing any provision of California law, or any provision of a 25 collective-bargaining agreement, that requires any payment of 26

1 money as a consequence for exercising one's constitutional 2 right not to join or financially support a public-employee union;

3 j. award costs and attorneys' fees under 42 U.S.C. § 1988;

4 k. grant all other relief that the Court may deem just, proper, or 5 equitable.

6 Respectfully submitted.
